Monday, March 15. 1714.

From the Hague Courant, dated March 211

Paris, March 16.

HE Particulars of what paffed in the Assembly of the Sorbonne, at registring the Pope's Bull the 5th lostant, were principally these. The Assembly was not near so numerous as in the was not near so numerous as in the former Sessions, for about an hundred Doctors absented themselves: The Syndick did not produce any Letter de Caches from the King, as was done at the former Meetings; but told them, that he had judged it his Duty to give his Majesty Lists of the Names of all who had voted for or against his Orders in the former Sessions; and warned them that he should do the like, after that Day's Session. The Deliberations were at length brought Seffion. The Deliberations were at length brought to a Conclusion; and the Majority of Voices carto a Conclusion; and the Majority of Voices car-ried it for registring the Bull. There were about 90 Doctors for it, of whom the fewest in Number go Doctors for it, of whom the fewest in Number argued for the registring without any Modifications; while the greater Part of them were for having it minuted that they consented to the registring, not upon debating the Cause, but purely in Obedience to the King's Orders: 22 Doctors declared absolutely against the registring, representing, that they ought to wait till the Pope had explained himself clearer, and till the Bishops had accepted his Holynes's Explanations; and that this ought to be most humbly remonstrated to his Majesty. But in the end, the Resolution of the his Majesty. But in the end, the Resolution of the Affembly was drawn up in the same Form as that wherein the Bull of the 16th of July 1705 was accepted and registered; yet with this Difference, that the words by unanimous Consent were omitted. that the words by unanimous Confent were omitted. The 10th the Faculty affembled again, to hear the faid Resolution read, and to confirm it. Which done, the Syndick and the fix Senior Doctors were deputed to wait on the Cardinal de Rohan, and to defire his Eminency to endeavour to obtain of the King at his Leifure an Audience, for the Dean the Syndick and the fix Senior Doctors to return the Syndick and the fix Senior Doctors to return their Thanks to his Majesty in the Name of the whole Faculty. The Court has fince received a Letter from Rome, which is kept very secret: In the mean while the Pasteral Instruction, which the 40 Bishops who accepted the Bull, thought fit to draw up for explaining their Proceedings therein, is not yet made Publick, though it was ingrossed and signed; which makes it thought there is to be some Alteration in it. The Party who are opposite. fome Alteration in it. The Party who are opposite to the Cardinal de Noailles, are busy in examining his Pastoral Letter of the 25th of February, to fee if they can find any Slip in it.

On Saturday Night atrived a Mail from France.

Paris, March 21. We have received Lawrence. We have received Letters direct. ly from Constantinople, dated the if of February, which confirm the Defeat of the Balhaws who had revolted in Afia, so that the Troops which had been or-dered thither were countermanded; that Levies and other Preparations of War were continued, particularly towards Salonica; and that great Diligence was used in the Ports of the Archipelago to fit out a Fleet, which is to be commanded by the Captain Bashaw or Admiral, and to put to Sea in the Month of March, to the Number of 32 Sultanas, 20 Galleys, and 20 Galeasses; 'twas not known for what Expedition, but 'twas guessed it might be in favour of the Kings of Sweden and Stanislaus, for whom the Grand Signior appears to interest himfelf fill.

'Tis advised from Strasbourg the 10th, and from Nanoy the 13th, that the two Generals had parted the 7th at Rastat, Prince Eugene for Vienna by the Way of Ausbourg, and the Marshal de Villars for Strasbourg where he staid from the 8th to the 10th, and the 12th he arrived at the Castle of Soleur where he found the Duke of Lorrain experience him, and was entertained by him and pecting him, and was entertained by him very magnificently. After having held a long Conference together, they parted the 13th in the Morning, the Duke for Luneville, the Marshal for Paris. 'Tis not doubted that this Interview had relation to the Pretentions of his Royal Highness to the Durchy of Mantua and the Montferrar, which the Marshal infifted on strenuously at Rastat, and 'tis said he obtained an Equivalent for those Pretentions. Whether this be to or not, the Duke of Lorrain continues to cause Levies to be made in his Dominions, but not out of them, for a Project which will not break out till about the End of the Month of May. The Chevalier de St. George had had for fome Days at Barledue the Company of the Prince and Princes of Vaudemont, who are fince gone back to Commercy. Affoon as the Peace was figned, the Governours of the Frontier Places on both Sides received Order to cause Hostilities to cease, till the Suspension of Arms should be pro-

The Marshal de Villars was received very graciously by the King, who conferred on his Son the Survivance of the Government of Provence: 'Tin even reported, that the Marshal has obtained Pardon of his Majesty for Prince Eugene.

yet arrived; but we learn by Letters from Girone of the 6th, that the Count de Fiennes had fent thither two of the Leaders of the Rebels, after having re-established Tranquility in the Plains of Vich and Urgel; and that Sig. Vallejo had like-wise sent to Solsona divers Leaders of the Mutineers, fo that all was quiet again in Catalonia, except in the Lusanes where were still some Troops of Mi-quelets and Volunteers, who had possessed the Pas-ses of the Mountains; but M. de Montemar and les of the Mountains; but M. de Montemar and Vallejo were marching against them, in order to restore the Communication on all Sides with the Camp before Bancelona. Also the Marquis de Thouy having drawn together in the Neighbourhood of Lerida a Body of 40 Battallions and 2000 Horse, had sent some Detachments to Sig. de Vallejo, for reinforcing the Blockade of Cardona. The 25th past at Night, some armed Ships and Barks belonging to the Rebels, took two Ships and three Tartans of the Spaniards; but the King's Men of War took two Pinks of the Rebels the same Day laden with Salg and Beans. That Day like-Day laden with Sala and Beans. That Day like wife, the three Men of War which the Marquis Mari bought and fitted out at Genoa, joyned the Spanish Squadron.
